Dear Sophomores,

As you continue exploring your options in this next week of Major Open Houses, you may be asking yourself how your major might influence your journey beyond Commencement.

At the Center for Career Education (CCE), we offer a wide range of resources and events to help you explore careers. Through our Majors Exploration pages, you can learn the industries, organizations and graduate programs students in specific majors have joined after graduation. You also can read stories from alumni about their experiences. We encourage you to use the My Columbia College Journey website to help you reflect during this process.

During career counseling sessions, we can help you articulate the competencies you build through your major and link your studies and extracurricular experiences to requirements for internships and jobs. If you’re an international student, we encourage you to connect with us to learn about how major can influence your options if you plan to work in the U.S.

Please remember, nothing about this decision is set in stone. We find that there are few straight lines between majors and careers and that, for many positions in LionSHARE, employers post for all majors or many majors.

Stop by Quick Questions at CCE before or after major declaration, every Monday–Friday, 1:00–4:00 p.m.

We are excited for the possibilities that await you. Remember, we are here to support you through every step of your journey!

Regards,

Kavita Sharma
Dean, Center for Career Education
