Where four years of thoughtful and responsible civic engagement, lasting friendships, and dedication to the community begin.

WHO
An enthusiastic group of incoming BC, CC, GS, JTS, and SEAS first-year students who share a common interest in community service.

WHAT
A community service pre-orientation program.

WHEN
The week before first-year orientation.

WHERE
Housing in upperclassmen campus dorms, services sites in many boroughs, and night activities in all of NYC.

WHY
A chance to serve the community, explore New York City, and bond with fellow classmates.

Volunteer in community service sites all over the city in small groups with other first-years.

Choose from among several service options that cater to your interests and experiences.

Previous sites include:
- Youth Action Programs and Homes
- Jewish Association for Services for the Aged (JASA)
- God’s Love We Deliver
- Project ACHIEVE
- Part of the Solution
- Ready, Willing, and Able

Engage in discussion groups with other CUEers over dinner about issues pertaining to community service and your life at Columbia.

Attend a panel of local community service leaders to discover how you can get involved in your new community.

Explore the city through the exciting activities you choose from each night.

Meet other incoming first-years with shared interests, easing your transition into college life.

Discover the city through our notorious missions during our annual scavenger hunt on the last day!

See the city alongside an experienced CUE leader, an upperclassman who serves as your leader and mentor during the program and beyond.

Become part of our thriving alumni network of campus leaders.

Please visit our website at www.columbia.edu/cu/cue to access the application.
