OPEN HOUSE IN SOCIOCULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY
Spring 2026

If you are considering a major or concentration in anthropology and would like to join others for food and informal contemplation of the possibilities for undergraduate anthropology at Columbia—a broad spectrum of courses cross-cultural and interdisciplinary in spirit, studies abroad, ethnographic and thesis possibilities, departmental events, the Columbia-Barnard Undergraduate Journal of Anthropology, summer research fellowships, post-grad futures, and more—then, by all means, in the midst of this major declaration moment come to an Open House in Anthropology. Bring your friends, questions, and curiosity...

Musing on your Major Declaration?
In search of the social? In search of difference?
Desire to write, ethnographically and otherwise?
Bring a friend or two.

Tuesday, March 3, 4:10 pm-5:10 pm

Anthropology Department Lounge
Room 465 Schermerhorn Extension

Yes, there will be food/drinks

SEE YOU THERE!
